

Don't Tell Me Now

(Alexandre PARENT - Stéphane LEULIER - 2014)

A million miles away from loosing innocence
You always play, but never fake a smile

So many years from now you will be tall enough
To see the world and wish you were still young

Keep on laughing while you can
Future is deaf when you cry
Never loose your precious blazing eye

Don't tell me now
You are not good
Enough to face dangers on your way
Leave your small hand
Into mine and
Save your breath, our journey has no end

Some time the day will come for you to go away
And free yourself of invisible chains
So many years from now you will be old enough
To see the world as I am today

Keep on laughing while you can
Future is deaf when you cry
Never loose your precious blazing eye
